Synopsis:

While tending to patients at the clinic, a sick nanny named Alice causes the team to go into lockdown when they believe she has a deadly contagious virus, revealed to be dengue fever. When Warren and Ruiz check on a disturbance at a family home, they try to convince the mother to get help for her abusive son before he kills someone with his guns. Hughes accompanies Beckett to Beckett's uncle's funeral at a bar on his first day out of rehab. Montgomery and Emmett spend time together during Emmett's father's funeral reception. Gibson leaves the team after being told he can't be a firefighter anymore.
